	)	the City of St. Louis
vs.	)
	)	Honorable Robin R. Vannoy
DEDRIC HILLIARD,	)
	)
Defendant/Appellant.	)	Filed: March 15, 2016

Dedric Hilliard appeals from the trial court's judgment entered upon a jury verdict convicting him of two counts of second-degree attempted robbery and one count of first-degree property damage.

AFFIRMED.

Division Four Holds: The trial court did not err in admitting the show-up identification testimony of the victims because the show-up was not inherently suggestive and the identifications satisfied the indicia of reliability. It was not grounds for a mistrial for the court to allow the evidence technician unit officer to refer to his notes about the fingerprint analysis.

Opinion by: Sherri B. Sullivan, P.J. Kurt S. Odenwald, J., and Lisa P. Page, J., concur.

Attorney for Appellant: John William Simon

Attorneys for Respondent: Chris Koster and Gregory L. Barnes
